

What are your options as an international student at the Faculty of Arts?

Become an exchange student

Does your university have an exchange agreement (Erasmus or other programs) with University of Antwerp?
Then you can apply to study one or two semesters at our faculty as an exchange student.

The Faculty of Arts comprises 5 departments:

- History
- Linguistics and Literature (including Film and Theater Studies)
- Multilingual Professional Communication
- Applied Language Studies / Translator-Interpreter
- Philosophy

Before applying for an exchange, please ask your home university with which of these departments an agreement has been signed.

The general language of instruction is Dutch. If you have a good knowledge of Dutch (B2/C1) you are allowed to take courses taught in that language during your exchange semester.

Apart from that, we also offer various courses and study programs in English, as well as French, German, Italian, Spanish, or Chinese.

Become a degree student

Do you want to obtain a degree at the Faculty of Arts in a full-time programme?
Then you are considered a degree student.

All Bachelor and most Master programmes' general language of instruction is Dutch. You need to have a B2/C1 level of Dutch proficiency to be allowed to do these programmes.

Study programmes in English

- Master of Digital Text Analysis
- Master of Linguistics and Literature: English
- InterUniversity Research Master of Philosophy
- Postgraduate of Asia-EU Cultural Curatorship Studies
