Enrollment ADS courses 2nd semester: January 11th

The registration for ADS courses of the second semester will be open from Tuesday January 11th.

During the month of December, you'll gradually find the new data for the courses on the ADS-website.

For second semester enrollment, everyone will again have an equal opportunity to register for ADS courses. PhD candidates on the first semester waiting lists do not have priority for enrollment in the second semester.

ADS: Out of office

The Antwerp Doctoral School has its winter break from December 24th until January 9th. Don't forget to ask your questions in time by contacting doctoraleducation@uantwerpen.be, preferably before December 21st. Even though our offices will be closed, you'll still find lots of information on the ADS website!

Prevent plagiarism with SafeAssign

SafeAssign is a tool that helps doctoral researchers to learn about plagiarism and proper source citation. This programme compares submitted papers or dissertations against a set of academic papers to identify areas of overlap.

The Antwerp Doctoral School developed a manual on SafeAssign for doctoral researchers. This will help you to do your research in accordance with the principles of scientific integrity as endorsed by the University of Antwerp.

PhD defence

Will the new covid restrictions affect your thesis defence? Make sure to ask your faculty for permission when scheduling an in-person defence, because not all faculties allow this at the moment. Check out the Pintra page to find out which regulations will assure you of a safe defence day.
