

October 2021

Doctoral Day - 28 October 2021

Our Doctoral Day welcomes new doctoral candidates, but also offers info sessions to PhD researchers who are further along in their PhD trajectory.

In the morning you can attend presentations on the doctoral study programme, ethical research and important practicalities during your PhD journey. In the afternoon we open our virtual doors to all PhD students, with parallel sessions on science communication, ethics, career development ...

The programme will be posted on our website soon, along with the registration form.

Get a head start on your defence

The public defences can be organized live again and since September the use of a COVID safe ticket will lift the regulations on mouth masks, social distancing ...

Keep in mind that the COVID safe ticket only applies in closed locations, where nobody else, besides your guests, can pass through.

Once you have your defence date, get a head start on your preparations. Good locations are in popular demand, so start on time when searching for your perfect defence venue.
