

Inverse problem and control

Marta Farré Puiggali
(University of Antwerp)

October 28, 2020
ONLINE
Analysis & Geometry Seminar, Antwerpen

The inverse problem of the calculus of variations consists in determining whether or not a given system of second order differential equations is equivalent to some regular Lagrangian system. I will explain how to apply some results of the inverse problem to the stabilization of controlled Lagrangian systems.