

Gregory Smith (UK) obtained his PhD in Physics in 2021 from University of York, and started in our group as a postdoc in 2021, working on fluid dynamics simulations for nanosecond pulsed plasmas used for CH₄ conversion into higher hydrocarbons.