

Callie Ndayirinde (Be) studied chemistry at the University of Antwerp, and started her PhD in our group in 2021, on CH₄ conversion into H₂ and higher hydrocarbons in atmospheric pressure glow and gliding arc discharges by experiments and modeling.