→ Public Park is a nomadic exhibition project inviting local and international artists to create and exhibit artworks in public parks and gardens.

→ The exhibition is accompanied by a rich public programme of music, film, performance, lectures, workshops, and tours, welcoming a wide variety of audiences.

→ The artistic and historical research of the site is the starting point of the project and forms the basis for a publication in a form of a walking guide, published with each edition of Publiek Park.

→ The project promotes the natural, cultural and communal values of green urban spaces by collaborating with a large group of (supra)local cultural partners.
