Building a community in legal research: Practical skills and practice

Programme

Friday 30 October 2020

Klooster van de Grauwzusters, Lange Sint-Annastraat 7, Antwerp

13:00 - 13:15

Registration

First workshop

Personal effectiveness: How to achieve your goals?

13:15 - 15:15

Sara Leysen (True Colours)

“True Colours offers a very strong form of process supervision, with a lot of empathy for the specific context of the organization and a good understanding of its individuality. Their greatest assets are their empathy, their substantive knowledge of organizational science (without sticking to one organizational vision), their process guidance skills and their experience with knowledge of the organization, through repeated assignments in the past 15 years.”

15:15 - 15:30

Coffee break

Second workshop

Communication skills: How to present your research in an accessible manner?

15:30 - 17:30

Dietmar Hertsen and Edward De Vooght (De Redenaar)

“De Redenaar gives lessons in public speaking, coaching and guidance, based on modern insights, but without cutting off the theoretical roots of classical rhetoric. Everything is covered: from hand-and-foot work, through voice volume to style figures. Hover between improvisation theater and a dusty lesson. Neither gurus nor professors. A bit of theory and an intensive workshop, always in tune with the audience. There is only one certainty: everyone has fun.”

Third workshop
