

October 2017

New paper contributions by TPR

- > An analysis of entry and exit decisions in shipping markets under uncertainty
- > E-commerce last-mile in Belgium : developing an external cost delivery index
- > The grand challenge : pathways towards climate neutral freight corridors
- > Kilometerheffing voor goederenvervoer in België
- > Rating the success of transport infrastructure project delivery

BNPPF Chair Port-Co-innovation café data & digital

On 21 November PM, the BNP Paribas Fortis Chair on Transport, Logistics and Ports will host its fourth Port Innovation Café, on 'Integration of the maritime chain: best practices in digitalisation' at the University of Antwerp. Anyone interested in contributing can contact christa.sys@uantwerp.be.

View program soon

C-MAT kicked off its new academic year

On 27 September, C-MAT kicked off its academic year 2017-2018 with presentations by Port of Antwerp and Brussels Airlines. 25 international students will follow the full-year Advanced Master program in maritime and air tracks on management or research.

View pictures

BNPPF Chair workshop Demurrage & Detention

On 5 September, 60 stakeholders, divided over three rounds, contributed to a workshop on Demurrage & Detention, hosted by the BNP Paribas Fortis Chair Transport, Logistics and Ports in Antwerp. Light was shed on the nature of the current debate in the port of Antwerp, experiences on demurrage and detention were shared and proposals for solutions were formulated and scored.

View presentation

BRAIN-TRAINS held its third public workshop

On 18 September, the BRAIN-TRAINS project held its third public workshop in Ghent. 30 stakeholders from the sector, policy-making, consulting and academia joined the event to discuss the intermediary project results and provide further suggestions and recommendations.

View presentations

TPR students @ Chongqing University

From 8 to 21 September, 14 TPR students visited Chongqing, as part of the exchange agreement with Chongqing University. Next to lectures at University, the students enjoyed visits to Chongqing Airport Group, Chongqing Meilan International Warehouse & Transport Group, Chongqing Lifan Automobile Group, Chongqing Environmental Sanitation Group, Chongqing Metro Transport Co., Port of Cuntan, etc.

View pictures

TPR real estate students @ Paris excursion

Ann Verhetsel took a group of experts from the real estate sector on a fieldtrip to Paris on 15 September, to visit and evaluate new projects in the neighbourhoods of Les Halles, le Sentier, Canal Saint martin, Avenue Montaigne, La Défense and Saint Germain.

View picture

TPR presented @ miscellaneous conferences

TPR lately presented on

- Modelling the urban layer in B2C e-commerce distribution networks
- Mitigating the impact of Ho.Re.Ca. logistics on city systems: A cost-benefit analysis from a governmental perspective
- Factors affecting the cost performance of transport infrastructure projects
- Capacity investment size and timing in a port under uncertainty and congestion
- Issues in urban logistics
- Ports and airports: do we need any regulation?

View presentations

Upcoming external events where you can meet TPR

11 OCT Hamburg International Conference of Logistics HICL
Hamburg

- Update address >
- Unsubscribe from this list >

Contact
Department of Transport and Regional Economics University of Antwerp departement.tpr@uantwerpen.be www.uantwerp.be/tpr

Disclaimer