

Rani Vertongen (Belgium) studied chemistry at the University of Antwerp, and started her PhD in our group in 2020, on modelling and experiments for plasma-based CO₂ and CH₄ conversion in gliding arc plasma, focusing on improved reactor design and the combination with post-plasma catalysis.