

 PRINCETON UNIVERSITY

Lounge Seminar

Giorgio Agamben, the Apostle Paul, and German-Jewish Thought

Vivian Liska

University of Antwerp and The Hebrew University of Jerusalem

This lounge seminar investigates the recent turn to the teachings of the apostle Paul among contemporary thinkers, particularly in the work of the Italian philosopher Giorgio Agamben. It explores the manifestations and consequences of this phenomenon and probes its effect on Agamben's reading of major German-Jewish authors and thinkers such as Franz Kafka, Walter Benjamin and Paul Celan.

September 19      4:30 PM

1879 Hall - Department of Religion Lounge

Sponsored by the Department of Religion and Program in Judaic Studies